

Privacy

Network Security ("We") are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

This policy (together with our terms of use and any other documents referred to on it) sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us.

Please read the following carefully to understand our views and practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat it. We provide www.networksecurity.ie and our products and services on the basis of these conditions.

For the purpose of the Data Protection Act 1998 (the Act), the data controller is Network Security of 510A Grants Avenue, Greenogue Business Park, Rathcoole, Co. Dublin.

INFORMATION WE MAY COLLECT FROM YOU

We may collect and process the following data about you:

-) Information that you provide by filling in forms on our site www.networksecurity.ie (our site). This includes information provided at the time of registering to use our site, making an enquiry, subscribing to our updates or requesting further services. We may also ask you for information when you report a problem with our site.
-) If you contact us, we may keep a record of that correspondence.
-) We may also ask you to complete surveys that we use for research purposes, although you do not have to respond to them.
-) Details of any products and services you enquire about or order and of the fulfilment of your orders.
-) Details of your visits to our site and the resources that you access.

IP ADDRESSES AND COOKIES

We may collect information about your computer, including where available your IP address, operating system and browser type, for system administration and to report aggregate information to our advertisers. This is statistical data about our users' browsing actions and patterns, and does not identify any individual.

For the same reason, we may obtain information about your general internet usage by using a cookie file which is stored on the hard drive of your computer. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive. They help us to improve our site and to deliver a better and more personalised service. They enable us:

-) To estimate our audience size and usage pattern.
-) To store information about your preferences, and so allow us to customise our site according to your individual interests.
-) To speed up your searches.
-) To recognise you when you return to our site.

You may refuse to accept cookies by activating the setting on your browser which allows you to refuse the setting of cookies. However, if you select this setting you may be unable to access certain parts of our site. Unless you have adjusted your browser setting so that it will refuse cookies, our system will issue cookies when you log on to our site.

WHERE WE STORE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

The data that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area ("EEA"). It may also be processed by staff operating outside the EEA who work for us or for one of our suppliers. Such staff may be engaged in, among other things, customer service and our complaints procedures. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our site; any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorised access.

USE MADE OF THE INFORMATION

We use information held about you in the following ways:

-) To ensure that content from our site is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your computer.
-) To provide you with information, products or services that you request from us or which we feel may interest you, where you have consented to be contacted for such purposes.
-) To carry out our obligations arising from any contracts entered into between you and us.
-) To allow you to participate in interactive features of our service, when you choose to do so.
-) To notify you about changes to our service.

We may also use your data to provide you with information about goods and services which may be of interest to you and we or they may contact you about these by post or telephone.

If you are an existing customer, we will only contact you by electronic means (e-mail or SMS) with information about goods and services similar to those which were the subject of a previous sale to you.

If you are a new customer, and where we permit selected third parties to use your data, we (or they) will contact you by electronic means only if you have consented to this.

If you do not want us to use your data in this way please tick the relevant box situated on the form on which we collect your data (the enquiry form).

We do not disclose information about identifiable individuals to our suppliers or business partners (eg insurance companies), but we may provide them with aggregate information about our users (for example, we may inform them that 500 users enquired about a particular product on any given day). We may use such aggregate information to help them reach the kind of audience they want to target.

DISCLOSURE OF THE INFORMATION

We may disclose your personal information to any member of our group, which means our subsidiaries, our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries.

We may disclose your personal information to third parties:

-) In the event that we sell or buy any business or assets, in which case we may disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets.
-) If Network Security or substantially all of its assets are acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by it about its customers will be one of the transferred assets.
-) If we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our terms of use and other agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of Network Security, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

YOUR RIGHTS

You have the right to ask us not to process your personal data for marketing purposes. We will usually inform you (before collecting your data) if we intend to use your data for such purposes or if we intend to disclose your information to any third party for such purposes. You can exercise your right to prevent such processing by checking certain boxes on the forms we use to collect your data. You can also exercise the right at any time by contacting us at Network Security, Privacy Policy (Marketing), 510A Grants Avenue, Greenogue Business Park, Rathcoole, Co.
